Creative Director at Matrex Exhibits

“A true renaissance man who constantly impressed me with his many talents, experiences and professional abilities.

I had the pleasure of working with Slavi for 4 years as his supervisor. During that time I had come to trust Slavi's attention to detail and admire his dedication to learning. I found him to be an expert at handling our heavy seasonal workload – everything from advance planning through final revisions.

Slavi's ability to juggle multiple projects during our busy season was impressive—a real asset to my team and to the company. His efforts made a real difference. less
